

10 FEB. 2012

FRAGX Gemboux
Bibliothèque

Journal of FORESTRY

December 2011

Volume 109, Number 8

ARTICLES

policy

- 429 New Choices and Challenges for Regulated Private Forests: The "Alternate Plan" Option

R.S. Gootee, K.A. Blatner, M.S. Carroll, D.M. Baumgartner, and E.P. Weber

geospatial technologies

- 436 LiDAR as a Tool to Characterize Wildlife Habitat: California Spotted Owl Nesting Habitat as an Example

C. Garcia-Feced, D.J. Tempel, and M. Kelly

economics

- 444 Regional Impacts of a Program for Private Forest Carbon Offset Sales

D.M. Adams, R. Alig, G. Latta, and E.M. White

fire

- 454 What Is Limiting More Flexible Fire Management—Public or Agency Pressure?

T.A. Steelman and S.M. McCaffrey

utilization & engineering

- 462 Applying Innovation Theory to Maine's Logging Industry

I.J. Stone, J.G. Benjamin, and J. Leahy

DISCUSSION

- 470 Forest Carbon Offsets: Possibilities and Limitations

R. Sedjo and M. Macauley

- 473 Response: A Critique of "Forest Carbon Offsets: Possibilities and Limitations"

M.E. Harmon and O.N. Krankina

- 475 Response: Measurement, Monitoring, and Verification: Make It Work!

C.M. Hoover

COMMENTARY

- 479 A Global View from the Deer Stand

A. Houston

President

Gerard A. Dziemgalski, CF, Garnevoort, NY, rdziemgalski@chpapeer.com

Vice-President

William Rockwell Jr., CF/FCA, St. Johns, MI, rockwell@mich.com

Immediate Past-President

Michael B. Lester, CF, Mechanicsburg, PA, milester@state.pa.us

Executive Vice-President and Chief Executive Officer

Michael T. Goergen Jr., Bethesda, MD, goergenm@safnet.org

Council

Bert L. Alverts, CF, Tigard, OR • Michael J. DeLasaux, Quincy, CA • Mark P. Elliott, Daphne, AL • George F. Frame, CF, Bristol, NH • Ernest A. Houghton, Gladstone, MI • Kenneth W. Jolly, Annapolis, MD • Charles W. Lorenz, CF, Turnwater, WA • Ian A. Munn, CF, Mississippi State, MS • G. Lynn Sprague, Garden City, ID • Thomas Straka, CF/FCA, Pendleton, SC • William David Walters, CF, Murfreesboro, TN

Forest Science and Technology Board

Art W. Gottschalk, CF, chair • Andrew Sanchez Meador, forest resources • William F. Elmendorf, nonindustrial forestry • Matthew Broom, forest ecology & biology • David Shaw, forest management & utilization • Sayeed Mehmood, decision sciences • Phillip Hartt, social & related sciences • Paul F. Doruska, CF, northern regional representative • David B. South, southern regional representative • Guy Pinjov, western regional representative

House of Society Delegates

Lynn Burkett, chair • Andrew J. Hayes, CF, vice-chair

National Office Department Directors

Michael T. Goergen Jr., executive vice-president & chief executive officer • Jorge Esguerra, senior director, finance & administration • Louise Murgio, CF, senior director, field services • Matthew Walls, senior director, publications • Christopher Whited, senior director, marketing & membership • Scott Oser, director, advertising • Carol Redelsheimer, CF, director, science & education

SAF Mission

The Society of American Foresters (SAF) is the national scientific and educational organization representing the forestry profession in the United States. Founded in 1900 by Gifford Pinchot, it is the largest professional society for foresters in the world. The mission of the Society of American Foresters is to advance the science, education, technology, and practice of forestry; to enhance the competency of its members; to establish professional excellence; and, to use the knowledge, skills, and conservation ethic of the profession to ensure the continued health and use of forest ecosystems and the present and future availability of forest resources to benefit society. SAF is a nonprofit organization meeting the requirements of 501 (c) (3). SAF members include natural resource professionals in public and private settings, researchers, CEOs, administrators, educators, and students.

SAF Core Values

1. Forests are a fundamental source of global health and human welfare,
2. Forests must be sustained through simultaneously meeting environmental, economic, and community aspirations and needs,
3. Foresters are dedicated to sound forest management and conservation, and
4. Foresters serve landowners and society by providing sound knowledge and professional management skills.

DEPARTMENTS

- 427 Research in Review
428 Letters
477 Forestry Reports
599 Journal of Forestry Quiz

2011 PROCEEDINGS

- 483 Proceedings of the 2011 Society of American Foresters National Convention
485 Presentation Abstracts
557 Poster Abstracts
593 Proceedings Author Index

JoF Journal of FORESTRY

Editorial Policy

The Journal of Forestry welcomes scientific and editorial manuscripts that advance the profession of forestry by presenting significant developments and ideas of general interest to natural resource and forestry professionals. Articles published in the Journal present, in a readable style, new and state-of-the-art knowledge, research, practices, ideas, and policies. Mini-reviews on topics of special interests are also published at the discretion of the editorial board. Manuscripts must not have been published previously and must not be under consideration for publication elsewhere. Acceptance for publication is based on both editorial criteria and peer review. Manuscripts are evaluated for methodology, technical accuracy, breadth of appeal, clarity, contribution, and merit. The Journal reserves the right to publish countering or supplemental articles to promote discussion.

Submission Guidelines

Letters to the Editor—Letters should directly address ideas or facts presented in the Journal. Priority is given to letters no longer than 250 words that refer to material published within the past six months. Letters may be faxed to (301) 897-3690, attention Editor, e-mailed to journal@safnet.org, or mailed to Editor, Journal of Forestry, 5400 Grosvenor Lane, Bethesda, MD 20814-2198.

Exploring the Roots—These short introductions revisit seminal articles previously published by SAF and discuss topics of historical import to the field of forestry, as well as explore the historical basis for issues currently affecting forestry. Maximum length is 1,000 words. Proposals for Exploring the Roots columns may be e-mailed to journal@safnet.org, faxed to (301) 897-3690, attention Editor, or mailed to Editor, Journal of Forestry, 5400 Grosvenor Lane, Bethesda, MD 20814-2198.

Perspectives—These short opinion pieces are not formally reviewed but are evaluated for content and style by the editors and/or editorial board. Maximum length is 1,000 words. The contributor of a "Perspective" must be a member of the Society of American Foresters. Submit the manuscript, complete contact information, and a head-and-shoulders photograph online at www.rapidreview.com/SAF/author.html.

Full-Length Articles—Maximum length is 4,500 words, plus a 150-word abstract. Footnotes should be incorporated into the text wherever possible or be presented as endnotes. Full guidelines can be found online at www.jofonline.org. Submit your manuscript online at www.rapidreview.com/SAF/author.html. Because the review process is double-blind, please ensure that authors are not identified anywhere in the manuscript (including running heads and feet).

Review Articles—Maximum length is 6,000 words, plus a 150-word abstract. Footnotes should be incorporated into the text wherever possible or be presented as endnotes. There is no limit to the number of literature citations in a review article. Full guidelines can be found online at www.jofonline.org. Submit your manuscript online at www.rapidreview.com/SAF/author.html. Because the review process is double-blind, please ensure that authors are not identified anywhere in the manuscript (including running heads and feet).